THE SOUTH AUSTRALIAN GRIDIRON ASSOCIATION

"We don't need another bl.... foreign sport in Australia" Nick said to me over the bar at the Robin Hood Hotel.

"What about Rugby and Soccer?" I asked, "you're going to tell me they're Australian?!"

Not exactly an encouraging conversation if you are one of eight people who have decided to establish American Football in South Australia! But, after eleven months of assiduity the South Australian Gridiron Association [S.A.G.A.] is up and running, tackling and passing the ball around Norwood Oval every Saturday night until March 16.

After weeks of Administrative meetings, and with magnificent support from the media, we held a public meeting in March 1985 where over 300 eager Gridiron fans presented themselves to form four metropolitan clubs. "The Port Adelaide Spartans", "The Brighton Breakers", "The Eastside Razorbacks" and "The Southern Longhorns" commenced training in April 1985.

Those who thought it was just a "run out and kill the opposition" game quickly left the ranks. The discipline and precise execution of "plays" could be likened to that of a military exercise. There is no room for prima donnas in these armies, each position has a distinct role to play. Everyone is a hero - as long as you get the ball over that line fifty yards away.

The strategies don't stop at the sidelines, serious tactics were needed to raise the $16,000 needed to buy re-conditioned padding and helmets from the United States.

So, between committee meetings and training sessions our friends, and many strangers in bars and shopping centres, were called upon to buy the inevitable raffle tickets. American N.F.L. Quarterbacks were approached to donate autographed articles to be auctioned and of course, the Club "get to-gether", when no-one minded drinking in the name of fundraising, all helped to enable S.A.G.A. obtain the necessary equipment. But what was most encouraging of all, was when twenty men decided to buy their own equipment, the dedication from the players to put South Australia's first Gridiron season in motion had been proved.

Between grunts and groans on the training fields, it seems that there were only two major concerns of the apprentice Gladiators; "When is the gear getting here?" and, being red blooded Aussie men, "When are the Cheerleaders coming out?" In November, the broad smiles and the glint in the eyes of our intrepid Gridiron pioneers were proof enough of their satisfaction on both counts.

Also in November, the S.A.G.A. Executive were forced to re-think the initial plans to play N.F.L. rules. With the goal of a National Competition in mind negotiations with the New South Wales and Victorian Leagues uncovered the fact that N.C.A.A. [National Collegiate Athletics Association] rules were implemented in both States. There will be little confusion for those of us who have religiously watched the N.F.L. telecasts over the past five years. There are only a few slight differences.

So, if you're one that thrills at the sight of Gladiators clashing, or maybe one who prefers to concentrate on the moves of a good Chess game - come and have a look at South Australia's newest sport - G R I D I R O N!
By the way, Nick was one of the first to buy a season ticket!

Rules

THE FIELD - 100 yards long, marked off in 10 yard sections.

THE TIME - 4 quarters of approx. 30 mins. total time each. At the end of each quarter, the teams change ends.

THE GAME - A coin is tossed to decide who gets the ball first. The winner of the toss chooses to either kick off or receive. The receiving team has 4 chances - DOWNS - to advance the ball 10 yards towards their opponents goal line. If they make the 10 yard advance they get 4 more downs. If they do not succeed, the ball goes to the other team.

THE TEAMS - Each side consists of two teams of eleven men each, an offensive team and a defensive team. The offensive team is in play when its team has the ball. Once that ball is lost, the defensive team takes the field to try and regain control. When a kicking play is called [kick-off, punt or conversion], the kicking team is called in. They then leave the field after the kick is attempted.

THE HUDDLE - In the huddle the quarterback decides which strategy [play] the team will use to advance the ball, running, passing, etc. Each man is given his definite assignement.

THE SCORING - Touchdown - 6 points are awarded when the ball is carried or passed to a receiver beyond the goal line.

Conversion - 1 point is awarded when the ball is kicked through the goal posts after a touchdown. 2 points are awarded if a successful run or a pass is completed into the end zone.

Field Goal - 3 points are awarded when the ball is kicked through the goal posts from any position on the field.

Safety - 2 points are awarded when the offensive ball carrier is tackled behind his goal line.

THE OFFICIALS - The Officials converse only with captains of the teams and the managers. It is their job to see that the rules are followed, play is fair and that penalties are given when merited.

Notes

DEFENCE

ENDS

These must provide both the ability to act as a pass receivers and possess excellent blocking technique to the outside.

5

TACKLES and ENDS

The front four are the largest men on Defence. They must stop the running attack and rush the Passer. These defensive men may use their hands on the line of scrimmage.

1

CORNERBACKS and SAFETIES [DEFENSIVE BACKS]

Protect the secondary or deeper backs of the field. These players must be fast and capable of being excellent tacklers as they are a teams final line of defence against both the pass & run.

4

7

FULLBACK

A power runner, an excellent blocker and pass receiver. Used extensively on short yardage plays.

6

LINEBACKERS

They pursue the runner or drop back to defend against the pass.

2

HALFBACKS:
An all-round athlete who can run, block, act as a pass receiver & occasionally pass himself.

CORNERBACK
[see above]

8

CENTRE, GUARDS and TACKLES

These five players make up the interior line on Offence. The centre handing-off the ball to the quarterback while the Guards and Tackle attempt to control the line of scrimmage and open holes for the Offensive Running Backs.

3
